Calendar of Activities

June 2020

The Stanley Ranch will remain dark for the month of June. However, volunteers are coming in on our volunteer days, which are Tuesday and Friday mornings, 9 AM to 1 PM. We're keeping a safe social distance.

If you're interested in helping in the garden, keeping a distance of six feet or more is easy! You can pick your garden patch and work busily and in nearly perfect isolation. And, the weeds are flourishing, thanks to the needed if unexpected rains of April, so your effort will be much appreciated.

Tours of the Ranch continue to be suspended.

June 23 - Board meeting, 9:30 AM.

July 2020

No public tours or open meetings scheduled at this time. We will send an "email blast" should this situation change.

July 9, 10, and 11 - The semi-annual Barn and Book Sale has been re-scheduled for this weekend. We will be maintaining social distancing and limiting the number of shoppers indoors at any one time, and face masks and gloves are encouraged.

July 28 - Board meeting, 9:30 AM.

Barn and Book Sale Re-scheduled!!

After several weeks of uncertainty, we are planning to move ahead with the semi-annual Barn and Book Sale. It's just a couple of months late, taking place on the second weekend of July, the 9th through 11th.

As is the drill, the doors will open at 8 AM each morning, and close at 4:30 PM. Salespeople will be keeping as much distance as possible, and wearing protective gear. We appreciate similar efforts on the part of the shoppers.

These plans are firm but not quite cast in concrete, since the situation with the COVID pandemic is in a state of flux. If we are not able to hold the sale as scheduled, we'll notify our email members and shoppers, and will correct the banner strung up west of the Stanley House with all the up-to-date information. So just in case, remember to check out the banner as you drive along Euclid.

Below is a view of the barn, taken during a previous sale. We look forward to seeing everyone in July!

Don't forget to renew your membership for 2020!

Exciting Changes Coming to the Old Pacific Electric (PE) Right-of-Way

If you've driven past the main post office in Garden Grove at Stanford and Nutwood lately, you'll probably have noticed construction activity in that area. (The lanes closed to traffic alongside the post office is a particularly noticeable clue.)

Modest upgrades have already taken place along the diagonal alignment between Nelson and Stanford. About 2016, a footpath of decomposed granite and a striped bicycle lane of asphalt appeared, with bollards at the two extremes to keep motor vehicle traffic off the road. Just to make clear what mode of transport the trail is meant for, one of Robin Marcario's mosaics is fixed to the low sound wall on the Nelson Street end of the trail.

Some background

The Pacific Electric Railway was the brainchild of a transplanted New Yorker from the little town of Oneonta, Henry Huntington. Huntington was the nephew of Collis P. Huntington, one of the "Big Four" railroad magnates of the nineteenth century. He had worked on electric trolleys in San Francisco as part of his work for the Southern Pacific Railroad. In 1901, Henry and his banker-partner Isaias Hellman began buying up abandoned lines in Los Angeles, and by the following year, they opened the line from downtown LA to Long Beach.

In 1903, Huntington created the Los Angeles Inter-Urban Railway (LAIU), with plans to extend to Santa Ana, Newport Beach, the San Fernando Valley, La Habra, Redlands, and Riverside. Simultaneously, the LAIU began buying rights of way of older lines as well as property proffered by communities wanting to lure the rail service into their communities.

By 1905, there were two lines into Orange County, terminating at Newport Beach and Santa Ana; the latter made a stop in Garden Grove. A Covina line, completed in 1907, brought the train to northern Orange County, with service to La Habra.

The year 1911 saw an important milestone: the merger of Huntington's early PE, the LAIU, and the Los Angeles Pacific Railway. The resulting conglomerate made the PE the largest inter-urban electric railway service in the world.

The line continued profitable operations until the 1920s, when Huntington's main revenue source from land holdings began run short. Less profitable lines, such as service to rural areas, were closed, with many rights of way converted to bus lines. Competition from freeway construction chipped away at the PE's market, and by the early 1940s, it was a shadow of its former self. The Whittier & Fullerton line was ended in 1938, with the Redondo Beach, Newport Beach, and Riverside lines ending service in 1940. The PE carried increased passenger loads during World War II; however, peacetime brought an end to that temporary respite.

The post-war housing boom was the catalyst for a feverish increase in highway construction, particularly the freeways for which Southern California is famous. Control of the old abandoned rights of way, however, was held by the public transit agencies, including the Los Angeles Metropolitan Transit Authority (MTA) and the Orange County Transportation Authority (OCTA).

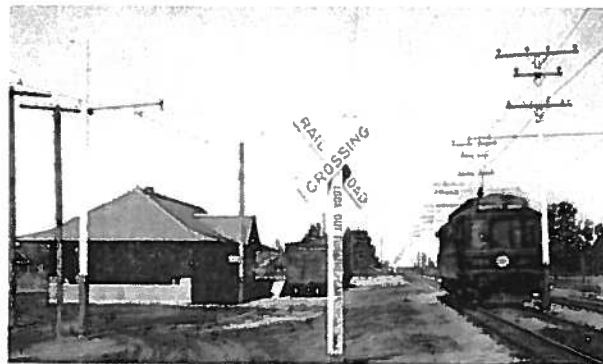

For the last couple of decades, what to do with the old PE has been a subject of debate.

Communities in LA have, in a few cases, installed light rail lines, often with cycling and pedestrian paths alongside. Re-use in Garden Grove has been less transit-oriented, to say the least: Parking lots (such as the one next to Home Depot) and nurseries have leased the land from OCTA for their operations. Nowhere has any brick-and-mortar construction occurred, however, since the controlling transit agencies are maintaining the rights of way for potential transit uses in the future. A quick visit to the Home Depot will show the astute observer a curious angle along the northeast edge of the building, which exactly mirrors the alignment of the PE.

All of which brings us to the changing look of the right of way through Garden Grove. As part of the City's Bike Master Plan, the existing bike trail from Nelson to Stanford is being extended as far west as Brookhurst. With funding from Caltrans's Active Transportation Program (ATP), this "first mile" is entering its final stage of construction. Part of the work authorized under ATP is informing the public about the newly-opened trails and how to take advantage of them, so if you're an avid cyclist or just enjoy a nice walk along an area separated from auto traffic, keep watch for further developments!

Here's current (mid-May) view of the trail under construction, along the east side of Brookhurst. Grading is complete, so paving for the bike trail and installation of decomposed granite for the walking path are next.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC STATION, GARDEN GROVE, CAL.

The PE station in Garden Grove, with a "Big Red Car" outside.

This Big Red Car has been re-purposed as a museum about the history of the Pacific Electric. It's parked on a railway siding in Seal Beach, and is open limited hours.

Gilbert Students Honored for PAL Program

Gilbert Elementary School was honored by the Orange County Department of Education for its Outstanding PAL (Peer Assistance Leadership) program for the 2019-2020 school year. Gilbert was one of only four schools across Orange County, from more than 100 schools with PAL programs, selected for this recognition.

The PAL group at Gilbert Elementary School includes 35 fifth and sixth grade students, led by advisors Dawn Floyd and Kari Gori. PAL students spearheaded an anti-bullying campaign, led the school's No Place for Hate initiatives, and helped promote a positive school environment by welcoming kindergarten students and helping all students develop friendships on campus. Additionally, PAL students dedicated time to community service, including writing letters to veterans and donating blankets to the Orange County Humane Society.

GGUSD Spotlights Our Amazing Seniors

GGUSD launched a Senior Spotlight feature to honor the accomplishments and hard work of our high school seniors! Families and friends submit photos and positive messages about what makes their seniors special.

La Quinta High School's Lauryn Magga. A message from her mom: Lauryn has always gone above and beyond to achieve in school and in life. She is the oldest of a family of 5 girls and she is a great role model to her sisters. Lauryn is going to be attending the University of Washington to study psychology.

Pacifica High School's Anthony Cazales. A message from his parents: We love you more than you could ever imagine and we are very proud of you. Mom and dad will always cheer, protect and advise you.

Enders Elementary Hosts Virtual Science Camp

Enders Elementary School hosted a virtual science camp - Camp Quarantine. Each student received a camp hat to wear with Enders pride, popcorn, Golden Graham S'mores, and items to engage in science experiments with. The kit came with a how-to document including links to videos of interactive science experiments, items to create art, and more. Kudos to Enders for developing a fun way to ensure sixth graders still enjoyed their science camp experience.

District Update on Safe Ceremonies

Virtual graduations are being held district-wide in an effort to celebrate and honor our graduating Class of 2020 in a manner that follows the Stay-at-Home order and ensures the health and safety of our students, staff, and families. Currently, California and Orange County have orders that restrict public gatherings, even when social distancing is in place. Thus, no event can be held at a school facility that gathers students and parents/families from across multiple homes, even given social distancing. Additionally, each high school has had or is planning cap and gown or diploma pick-ups, and other school-based or parent-led celebratory activities with the caveat that students and families must remain in their cars in keeping with state and county guidelines. While the district will allow schools to engage in these drive-through-style of celebrations, our campuses remain closed to the public, and public gatherings may not occur on campus. The safety of our students, staff and families is our highest priority. Once restrictions on public gatherings are lifted and large events such as graduation, hosting thousands of people in a stadium, are allowed, we will survey senior students and parents on possible postponement dates and determine next steps. In the interim, we want to honor and celebrate our graduates on their designated graduation day.

GGUSD is committed to keeping our community informed about the impact of the coronavirus public health crisis on our school system. All coronavirus related messages or updates from GGUSD to our families are posted here.

OC Streetcar project rolls along with new contract

By Susan Christian Goulding

The Orange County Transportation Authority has awarded a $45 million contract for the maintenance and operation of the OC Streetcar.

Scheduled to get rolling in 2022, the OC Streetcar will run on a 4.1-mile route through Santa Ana and Garden Grove.

Its debut is on schedule despite widespread upheaval wreaked by the coronavirus. In fact, the project is zipping along a few weeks ahead of schedule because of the coronavirus.

With many businesses in the area closed, more work could be done during daytime hours in downtown Santa Ana, agency spokesman Eric Carpenter said.

For instance, waterlines could be installed "without having to repeatedly move heavy construction equipment in and out, and open and close streets to traffic," Carpenter said.

In a major step toward completion, the OCTA Board of Directors approved the $45 million contract with Herzog Transit Services on May 22 for operating what will be Orange County's first modern electric streetcar system.

Under the contract, Herzog will maintain the streetcar for at least five years. Based in Missouri, the rail services company oversees streetcar systems around the country, including in Kansas City, Mo. and Oklahoma City, Okla.

Construction on the OC Streetcar began in late 2018, after the Federal Transit Administration awarded it a $149 million funding grant. Other funds for the $408 million project come from the state and from Measure M, Orange County's half-cent sales tax for transportation improvements.

The streetcar will carry passengers between the Santa Ana transit center and a transit stop at Harbor Boulevard and Westminster Avenue in Garden Grove — running along Santa Ana Boulevard, Fourth Street and the Pacific Electric right-of-way.

Six vehicles — with two spares — will operate daily, making stops at 10 locations in each direction every 10 to 15 minutes.

California designated construction staff as essential employees, allowed to continue working during stay-at-home orders meant to help curb the spread of the virus.

With the continued lifting of some restrictions, Carpenter said downtown Santa Ana is coming back to life. That may slow down construction but, after all, traffic is the whole reason the streetcar project exists.

"It's a good sign to see that many are able to do business again," Carpenter said, adding that OC Streetcar will provide major transportation benefits to the entire community."

Garden Grove orders two-night 6 p.m. curfew

By Roxana Kopetman

With a protest expected in Garden Grove on Wednesday, the city declared a two-night curfew, that began Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Residents are to stay off any public street, sidewalk, park or other public place from 6 p.m. to 5 a.m. again tonight, and businesses remain closed.

"We are asking for the public's cooperation in following the curfew orders so we can ensure the safety of our community, our businesses, and our first responders," Garden Grove City Manager Scott Stiles wrote on the city's website.

Exempt from the curfew are people traveling to and from work, seeking or giving medical care, emergency responders, people who are homeless, and members of the news media.

A flyer circulating on social media announced "a peaceful protest" in Garden Grove beginning with a march at 4 p.m. Wednesday outside City Hall.

Seeing other demonstrations turn violent, business owners on Main Street took precautions and boarded up their storefronts with the help of volunteers Monday and Tuesday.

"We've had so many festivals in Garden Grove. And nothing was as heartwarming as this. All you heard was saws and drills and boards going up in a beautiful spirit," said Maureen Blackmun, president of the Garden Grove Neighborhood Association.

Led by contractor Josh Lindsay, owner of Lindsay Builders, and Ric Lerma, who heads the Downtown Business Association, volunteers worked together "to help their neighbors," Blackmun said.

Garden Grove officials said they joined in condemning the killing of George Floyd by policemen in Minneapolis, an event that has led to peaceful protests and violent demonstrations across the nation.

"Garden Grove fully condemns the senseless actions that led to the inhumane death of George Floyd that should never have happened, and must stop here," said Mayor Steve Jones.

Man tries to steal police car at station, attacks officer

By Alma Fausto

An 18-year-old man jumped a fence into Garden Grove Police Department headquarters property to try to steal a squad car, and later attacked a police officer, authorities said.

The incident happened on Sunday at around 8 p.m. at the station on Acacia Pkwy, police Lt. Carl Whitney said Wednesday.

"We got a call from a citizen who saw him by our back lot fence and he was wearing a backpack," Whitney said. "A couple of officers saw him trying to jump the wall."

Whitney said there is a seven-foot fence surrounding the department's back lot. The caller reported seeing two people but officers found only the suspect, later identified as Quincy Lunford, of Garden Grove.

When officers detained Lunford, Whitney said, "he self-proclaimed he was with Black Lives Matter" and he was there to steal a police car "to make a statement" but organizers of the movement said he's not affiliated with the group, which has no chapters in Orange County.

Once Lunford was taken to the jail to be booked, he attacked an officer by grabbing her by the collar, officials said.

"We were able to get him off of her fast," Whitney said. She was uninjured.

Lunford was charged Tuesday with felony counts of resisting an executive officer and attempted vehicles theft along with misdemeanor counts of resisting a public or peace officers, and trespassing with intent to interfere with a business, court records show. He was set to be arraigned Wednesday.

He faces a maximum of three years and four months in state prison if convicted on all charges, the Orange County District Attorney's Office said in a statement. He was being held in lieu of $20,000 bail, jail records show.

District Attorney Todd Spitzer said that he considers Lunford's alleged crimes to be related to the "civil unrest" across the region in the wake of the death last week of George Floyd at the hands of Minneapolis police. Spitzer said it is among two cases related to the unrest that are currently being prosecuted in the county.

Most importantly, we cherish the overwhelmingly positive relationship between our police department and the community, which we consider a unique and valued honor, especially in light of what we see happening around the nation."

Since the early 1990s, the Garden Grove Police Department has exercised a community policing philosophy to achieve deeper trust and understanding between police and the community that has been the basis for maintaining peace and public safety for decades.

"Our long-standing partnership with the community includes respecting their right to self-expression and allowing the appropriate arena to exercise that right. On the flip side, we expect the community to maintain lawfulness so we can keep them and everyone else safe," said Garden Grove Police Chief Tom DaRé.

Garden Grove City Manager Scott Stiles underscored the importance of city and community working together.

"Despite the challenging times we're facing, I have tremendous trust in our community, our city staff, and in our public safety personnel to always work together for the betterment and well-being of Garden Grove," he said.

MAYOR: RESPECT FOR DIVERSITY, STRONG POLICE/COMMUNITY RELATIONS ESSENTIAL FOR HARMONY, UNDERSTANDING

As cities across the nation, including a handful in Orange County, deal with mass protests following the controversial death of George Floyd by Minnesota police officers, Garden Grove focuses on the importance of respecting diversity in all forms and maintaining positive police relationships in the community.

"Garden Grove is a city of compassion with deep respect for the social diversity that underpins the foundation of our community. Nearly 200,000 people of differing backgrounds, beliefs, and opinions enjoy living together in peace and harmony within our city limits. Most importantly, we cherish the overwhelmingly positive relationship between our police department and the community, which we consider a unique and valued honor, especially in light of what we see happening around the nation," said Garden Grove Mayor Steve Jones.

Since the early 1990s, the Garden Grove Police Department has exercised a Community Policing philosophy to achieve deeper trust and understanding between police and the community, that has been the basis for maintaining peace and public safety for decades.

"Our long-standing partnership with the community includes respecting their right to self-expression and allowing the appropriate arena to exercise that right. On the flip side, we expect the community to maintain lawfulness so we can keep them and everyone else safe," said Garden Grove Police Chief Tom DaRé.

MAY BUDGET REVISE SUMMARY REPORT

In response to the devastating economic impacts of COVID-19 on the state's budget, to the tune of a projected $54 billion shortfall, Gov. Gavin Newsom is proposing a multiyear recovery approach that significantly draws down nearly all available reserves while delivering a balanced budget.

The May Revision budget proposal is scaled down to $203 billion from the $222.2 billion proposed in January, as the state faces its first deficit in eight years. The Governor's focus is on the protection of California's core values: public education, public health, public safety, and people hit hardest by COVID-19. These core values have been at the heart of local leaders' efforts on the front lines, protecting communities and delivering services throughout the pandemic.

The May Revision includes details on the state's fiscal outlook in context of present and future risks to the state, national, and global economy, including prolonged disruption from the pandemic and public health response. As the state plans through a multiyear or decade-long recovery, the budget plan highlights climate change, housing affordability, aging population, lower fertility rates, and slowing migration as key risks to the California economy.

The May Revision proposes to use $16.2 billion in the Budget Stabilization Account (Rainy Day Fund) over three years, cancel planned or previously proposed program expansions, spend available federal funds, and build automatic budget controls in the event that new federal stimulus dollars are approved.

From the League's preliminary analysis, there does not appear to be any state taking or borrowing of city revenues. The League will provide additional updates and analysis as we continue to work through the details. Read League Executive Director Carolyn Coleman's response to the May Revision here, and read the League's preliminary analysis below.

Housing

State Support for Renters and Homeowners

The May Revision proposes to expend $331 million in National Mortgage Settlement funds for housing counseling, mortgage assistance, and renter legal aid services as follows: the California Housing Financing Agency will administer $300 million for housing counseling and mortgage assistance, and the remaining $31 million to the Judicial Council to provide grants to legal aid services organizations.

Funding for Affordable Housing and Infrastructure

The May Revision makes the following key investments:

- Maintains the $500 million in low-income housing state tax credits in the Governor's proposed January Budget.
- Maintains the SB 2 real estate transaction fee, estimated at $277 million for 2020-21, for affordable housing.
- Allocates $452 million from Cap-and-Trade auction proceeds for infill development that also reduces vehicle miles traveled and greenhouse gas emissions.
- Seeks to expedite the allocation of the $4 billion in Proposition 1 bonds for veterans and affordable housing programs.

The May Revision redirects significant funding away from key housing programs. These include:

- $250 million in mixed-income development funds over the next three years.
- $200 million in infill infrastructure grant funds.
- $115 million in other housing program funds.

It is important to note that these funds have not been allocated or dedicated to specific projects. It is unclear when these funds will be returned to their individual programs.

Streamlining Housing Processes and Procedures

The May Revision continues the Administration's commitment to implement and identify process improvements to streamline housing programs to remove barriers to increase housing production. These include:

- Creating a joint application for tax credits between the Tax Credit Allocation Committee and California Debt Limit Allocation Committee.
- Realigning the Housing and Community Development Department's (HCD) program award schedules to expedite funding awards.
- Working on improvements to revamp the state's housing planning process with input from key stakeholders and local governments.

The May Revision seeks to leverage federal funds and existing state programs and properties to implement a comprehensive strategy to increase housing supply and to support preservation, protection, and production of housing. These include:

- Preserving existing subsidized affordable housing stock by stabilizing existing deed-restricted affordable housing and guarding against private sector actors buying up distressed assets.
- Seeking strategies to stabilize tenants in existing units.
- Significantly streamlining, upzoning, and producing new housing units, especially on excess and surplus lands, in transit-oriented infill areas, and on public land.
- Building a workforce development strategy to support a skilled and trained housing workforce pipeline with high-road wage rates, and promoting innovative alternative construction methods.

Homelessness

The May Revision proposes $750 million in federal funding to purchase hotels and motels secured through Project Roomkey, to be owned and operated by local governments or non-profit providers. The state will also use these funds to provide significant technical assistance to local jurisdictions or other parties seeking to purchase and operate former Project Roomkey hotels and motels to address homelessness in their localities.

The May Revision allocates $1.5 million ongoing to the Homeless Coordinating and Financing Council Administrative Resources and 10 permanent Homeless Coordinating and Financing Council positions to effectively carry out statutory mandates and strengthen its strategic coordination of the state's efforts to address homelessness.

The May Revision allocates $450 million of the state's CARES Act funding to cities and $1.3 billion to counties to be used toward homelessness, public health, public safety, and other services to address the COVID-19 pandemic.

- The May Revision allocates $450 million to all cities that did not receive a direct allocation under the CARES Act. Of these recipients, cities with populations above 300,000 will receive a direct state allocation while all other cities will be provided funding through their counties. Jurisdictions must spend these funds consistent with federal law and are advised to prioritize these dollars to supplement existing efforts by counties and Continuums of Care to address the impacts of COVID-19 on people experiencing homelessness, including but not limited to outreach and hygiene efforts, shelter and housing supports, public safety, and rental subsidies.
- The May Revision allocates $1.3 billion of its CARES Act funding directly to counties based on population size to address the public health, behavioral health, and other health and human services needs that have arisen as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.

It is important to note that funding is contingent on adherence to federal guidance and the state's stay-at-home orders and will be released upon jurisdictions' certification of both.

Environmental Quality

The May Revision maintains relatively the same funding levels for both the Environmental Protection Agency and the Natural Resources Agency from the Governor's proposed January Budget. The Environmental Protection Agency's total proposed budget is $3.911 billion, an approximately 15 percent decrease from the 2019-20 adopted budget. The Natural Resources Agency total budget is $6.748 billion, an approximately 3 percent increase from the 2019-20 adopted budget.

The Governor's May Revision differed significantly from the January budget proposal, with the elimination of the climate catalyst fund proposal and the absence of the $4.75 billion climate adaptation bond proposal. With the onset of a COVID-19 recession, the ambitious "climate budget" the Governor proposed is all but gone.

Emergency Preparedness and Response

The May Revision reflects $127 million in funding for the Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES) to enhance the state's emergency preparedness and response capabilities. This funding includes:

- Increases funding from the January budget proposal for the California Disaster Assistance Act (CDAA) by $21.5 million, to total $38.2 million in one-time General Fund funding. These funds can be used to repair, restore, or replace public real property damaged or destroyed by a disaster or to reimburse local governments for eligible costs associated with emergency activities undertaken in response to a state of emergency proclaimed by the Governor. This augmentation increases total CDAA funding available in the Budget to $100.8 million.

- Reduces funding for the Wildfire Forecast and Threat Intelligence Integration Center from the January budget proposal by $6.8 million, to $2 million in General Fund funding. These dollars will go to enhance the state's emergency response capabilities through improved forecasts for tracking and predicting critical fire weather systems, which improves situational awareness of fire threat conditions in real-time, consistent with Chapter 405, Statutes of 2019 (SB 209).
- Eliminates $101.8 million funding proposal to implement AB 38 (Wood, Chapter 391, Statutes of 2019), which directs Cal OES and the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection (CAL FIRE) to develop a joint powers authority to administer a $100 million home hardening pilot program. The May Revision, however, does include $8.3 million in Cap-and-Trade funding to go towards AB 38 implementation.
- Maintains $9.4 million ($9.2 million in General Fund) and 50 positions to enhance Cal OES' ability to prepare for, respond to, and assist the state in recovering from disasters while maximizing eligible federal reimbursements.
- Maintains $50 million one-time General Fund to support additional preparedness measures that bolster community resiliency. Building on the state's 2019-20 power resiliency investments, these measures will support critical services still vulnerable to power outage events, including schools, county election offices, and food storage reserves. This proposal will support a matching grant program to help local governments prepare for, respond to, and mitigate the impacts of power outages.
- Maintains $17.3 million to operate the California Earthquake Early Warning. This new innovative program that uses science, monitoring, and technology to alert people, businesses, and transit agencies via devices before the anticipated strongest seismic activity arrives. The May Revision proposes to switch the fund source for the loan from the General Fund to the School Land Bank Fund.

The May Revision includes several pots of funding to the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) to reduce the risk of utility-initiated wildfires. The CPUC would receive $50.1 million in 2020-21 for the Commission to review and enforce utility wildfire mitigation plans and implement AB 1054 (Holden, 2019) and AB 111 (Budget, 2019). The bills established a new Wildfire Safety Division, created procedures and standards applicable to catastrophic wild fire proceedings, codified the prudent manager standard for wildfire liability, and established a Wildfire Fund and mechanisms to capitalize the fund to protect ratepayers.

The May Revision continues to build on the CPUC's emergency response and preparedness efforts and includes an additional 11 positions for the CPUC to further improve its Wildfire Mitigation Plan guidelines and performance metrics. Overall, the Governor's proposed January Budget and May Revision together contain 106 new positions and $30 million for the CPUC to address issues related to utility-caused wildfires.

The May Revision also includes $1.1 billion in available federal funds through the Community Development Block Grant Program (CDBG) for critical infrastructure and disaster relief related to the 2017 and 2018 wildfires.

Climate Resiliency

The May Revision dramatically changes the Governor's climate resiliency budget proposal. Chief among these changes are the elimination of the $1 billion "climate catalyst fund" and no mention of the Governor's ambitious $4.75 billion climate resiliency bond measure. The Governor cites "unforeseen budgetary pressures" as the impetus behind the elimination of the climate catalyst fund. However, it is unclear if the Governor is continuing to promote a climate resiliency bond proposal in the Legislature and to the voters given the new fiscal condition of the state.

Additionally, the May Revision maintains the $965 million Cap-and-Trade expenditure plan outlined in January, but with the caveat that auction proceeds could come in lower than anticipated. The May Revision establishes a "pay-as-you-go" provision that will allow Cap-and-Trade expenditures to be made quarterly to match the auction proceeds. The following types of projects will be prioritized first if auction revenues are lower than anticipated:

- Air Quality in Disadvantaged Communities: AB 617 Community Air Protection Program and agricultural diesel emission reduction.
- Forest Health and Fire Prevention, including implementation of the requirements of Chapter 391, Statutes 2019 (AB 38).
- Safe and Affordable Drinking Water.

Public Safety

Proposition 47 Savings

Voters passed Proposition 47 in November 2014, which requires misdemeanor rather than felony sentencing for certain property and drug crimes and permits inmates previously sentenced for these reclassified crimes to petition for resentencing. The Department of Finance currently estimates net savings of $102.9 million General Fund for Proposition 47 when comparing 2019-20 to 2013-14, a decrease of $19.6 million from the Governor's Budget estimate for 2019-20. These funds will be allocated according to the formula outlined in the initiative.

The Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST)

The May Revision proposes to use $10 million General Fund previously appropriated to:

- Create a Distance Learning Grant Program.
- Increase the functionality of POST's Learning Portal.
- Upgrade previously produced and developed distance learning courses and videos.

Cannabis

- Cannabis Regulatory Consolidation – The Governor's proposed January Budget announced the Administration's intent to consolidate the cannabis-regulatory functions in the Departments of Consumer Affairs, Food and Agriculture, and Public Health into a single Department of Cannabis Control, and stated more details would be submitted to the Legislature in the spring. The Administration will now release details of a proposed consolidation in the 2021-22 Governor's Budget.

- Updated Allocation of Cannabis Tax Fund – Proposition 64 specified the allocation of resources in the Cannabis Tax Fund, which are continuously appropriated. Reflecting a total reduction of $35.9 million compared to the Governor’s proposed January Budget estimate (due to lower than expected tax receipts as result of the COVID-19 pandemic), the Budget estimates $296.9 million will be available for these purposes in 2020-21, and the structure of these allocations is unchanged from 2019-20:
  - Youth education, prevention, and early intervention and treatment and school retention—60 percent ($178.1 million)
  - Environmental protection—20 percent ($59.4 million)
  - Public safety-related activities—20 percent ($59.4 million)
- Cannabis Tax Reform – The Governor’s January Budget proposed to simplify tax administration for cannabis by changing the point of collection of cannabis taxes. The changes would have moved the responsibility for the cultivation excise tax from the final distributor to the first, and for the retail excise tax from the distributor to the retailer. This will now be addressed in next year’s budget.
- Cannabis Excise Tax – Proposition 64 levies excise taxes on the cultivation and retail sale of both recreational and medical cannabis. The cultivation tax is paid on all recreational and medicinal cultivation of cannabis, and was increased to adjust for inflation to $9.65 per ounce of flower, $2.89 per ounce of trim, and $1.35 per ounce of fresh cannabis plant on January 1, 2020. In addition, there is a 15 percent tax on the retail price of cannabis. Both cannabis excise taxes together generated $299 million in 2018-19. The revenue from excise taxes was revised down from $479 million to $443 million in 2019-20 and $590 million to $435 million in 2020-21.
  - While similar products like alcohol and tobacco tend to be recession-resistant, the May Revision assumes that cannabis businesses will be more negatively impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Cannabis businesses have less access to banking services that could provide liquidity, have a younger consumer base likely to be disproportionately affected by the COVID-19 recession, and still must contend with competition from the illicit market.

Revenue and Taxation

In an effort to find new revenues, the May revision proposes the following:

- A new tax on e-cigarettes based on nicotine content to be deposited in a new special fund.
- Suspend Net Operating Losses for 2020, 2021, and 2022 for medium and large businesses.
- Limit business incentive tax credits from offsetting more than $5 million of tax liability for 2020, 2021, and 2022.
- Require used car dealers to remit sales tax to the Department of Motor Vehicles with the registration fees.
- Require the use of market value for determining price for private auto sales (potentially increasing local shares that are distributed through county sales tax pools).

Transportation and Infrastructure

The transportation budget as a whole remains about the same as the Governor’s January proposal. SB 1 (Chapter 5, Statutes of 2017) funds are protected and continue to be collected. No

SB 1 funds are being used to address General Fund shortfalls. In addition to the details below, the May Revision addresses how the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) has responded to COVID-19, including alternative service channels such as virtual field offices. The deadline for REAL ID has also been extended by one year until October 2021.

Enhancing Emergency Response and Preparedness

The May Revision reflects $127 million for the Cal OES. Of that, the May Revision makes the following key investments related to Transportation, Communications, and Public Works:

- Maintains $17.3 million to the California Earthquake Early Warning Program to alert people, businesses, and transit agencies of strong seismic activity before it occurs.
- Maintains $2.5 million to transfer the Seismic Safety Commission to Cal OES, which will increase coordination, earthquake preparedness, and seismic safety benefits.

Transportation Projects

Fuel tax revenues used to fund transportation projects are expected to drop by a total of $1.8 billion through 2024-25.

Caltrans will accelerate projects to achieve cost savings, support the creation of new jobs in the transportation sector, and improve roads. The May Revision maintains current planning and engineering staffing levels to continue developing and designing programmed projects for if and when potential stimulus package funding becomes available.

Broadband Expansion

In response to COVID-19, the CPUC made a series of investments to support bridging the digital divide. This included $25 million for hotspots and Internet service for student households, and $5 million available to help cover the cost of computing and hotspot devices. The May Revision builds upon this work by investing $2.8 million and adding three positions to the CPUC to enhance its broadband mapping activities to better inform the state's broadband infrastructure grant program, improve safety by providing broadband speed data at emergency response locations such as fairgrounds, and enhance the state's ability to compete for federal broadband funding.

The May Revision proposes statute intended to increase the ability of the state to compete for federal funding to improve access to broadband Internet in California.

Community Services

The May Revision made numerous eliminations or reductions to almost every part of the budget related to Community Services. As the state is looking for places to "tighten the belt," they often look to the parks, arts, and humanities programs first. This lean budget proposal is no different.

Parks and Recreation

As we saw in the Great Recession of 2009, community services and parks are among those areas that receive less state funding in times of economic downturn. In the May Revision, the Department of Parks and Recreation, beginning in fiscal year 2021-22 and ongoing afterwards, is proposed to have its budget cut by $30 million. These cuts will be developed through a planning process to ensure Californians still have access to parks and open spaces in an equitable way.

The May Revision also eliminates or reduces many of the components of the “Parks for All Initiative,” which seeks to expand access to parks, open spaces, and natural lands for all Californians. The funding for this initiative was reduced from $65.1 million overall in January to $24.5 million. The new allocations are as follows:

- Reduces funds for establishing a new state park from $20 million to $5 million.
- Maintains funds of $4.6 million for acquiring lands to expand existing parks.
- Reduces allocations of Proposition 68 funds for improving park facilities in urban areas from $8.7 million to $6.1 million.
- Eliminates $20 million for improving outdoor access for underserved populations.
- Reduces enhancing park access programing from $11.8 million to $8.8 million.

California Volunteers

As the State Service Commission for California, California Volunteers manages programs and initiatives aimed at increasing the number of Californians engaged in service and volunteering. The May Revision provides $2.9 million in ongoing General Fund funds for administrative and strategic planning staff, including emergency volunteer coordinators located in the three most populated regions of the state. The May Revision also provides $10.1 million ongoing General Fund to sustain nearly 500 AmeriCorps volunteer positions that were established with funding from the 2019-20 Budget Act.

Electronic Cigarette Tax

In order to address the rapidly increasing youth use of potent nicotine-based vaping products, the May Revision maintains the new vaping tax based on nicotine content proposed in the Governor’s January Budget. The new tax will begin on January 1, 2021, and will be $2 for every 40 milligrams of nicotine in the product, equivalent to the tax on a pack of cigarettes. The new tax will be in addition to all existing taxes on e-cigarettes, which are presently taxed as tobacco products under state law.

Revenues from the new tax are expected to be $33 million in 2020-21, will be deposited into a new special fund, and will be used to increase enforcement and to offset Medi-Cal costs. The May Revision includes $13.9 million and 10.5 positions for the Department of Tax and Fee Administration to administer the proposed tax and $7 million for the California Highway Patrol to establish a task force in collaboration with the Department of Justice dedicated to combating the underground market for vaping products. In addition to the tax, the Administration will support a statewide ban on all flavored nicotine products as of January 1, 2021.

California Arts Council

The California Arts Council proposal of a one-time increase of $10.5 million General Fund in 2020-21 is eliminated.

Animal Shelters

The May Revision reduces from $50 million to $5 million in one-time spending for an animal shelter grant demonstration project.

Governance, Transparency, and Labor Relations

While the Governor in his January Budget proposal press conference recognized the challenges cities face with their pension obligations, he did not then, nor now propose new funding to help cities manage their costs or backfill their lost revenue.

Unemployment Insurance

As of May 9, the Employment Development Department has processed and approved approximately 4.4 million Unemployment claims that will provide $12.2 billion in Unemployment insurance (UI) benefits. Due to the overwhelming need for these benefit payments, states are able to borrow from the federal government without interest through 2020 to support their UI programs. Similar to the state's circumstances during the Great Recession, California will need to borrow tens of billions of dollars to support UI benefits as a result of the COVID-19 induced recession.

CalPERS

SB 90 (Chapter 33, Statutes of 2019) included a supplemental pension payment of $3 billion toward the state's share of its unfunded liabilities with the hopes of maximizing savings over 30 years. Of this amount $2.5 billion was paid to CalPERS in 2019 and instead of being applied over several years will instead be applied to the next two budget years to produce more immediate savings and a reduction in the state's retirement contribution. The remaining unspent $500 million will be directed to support core programs due to the ongoing fiscal challenges the state faces.

Paid Family Leave

The May Revision continues to fund the expansion of paid family leave benefits that was included in the January proposal.

AB 5 enforcement

The May Revision continues to fund the January proposals to enforce compliance with AB 5 (Chapter 296, Statutes of 2019). The Governor's proposal provides $22 million for this purpose:

- The Department of Industrial Relations would receive $17.5 million to increase access to workers' compensation and to adjudicate labor law violations,
- $3.4 million to the Employment Development Department for staff training and increased hearings and investigations.
- The Department of Justice would receive $780,000 for investigations.

League-Sponsored Bond Agency Issues More than $45 Million in Tax-Exempt Bonds for Affordable Housing in Pasadena

June 2, 2020

Affordable apartments for low-income senior residents in Pasadena will undergo renovations with the use of tax-exempt bonds issued by the California Statewide Communities Development Authority (CSCDA).

Concord RHF Partners, LP acquired and rehabilitated The Concord Apartments, which include 150 affordable housing studio and one-bedroom apartments to low-income senior residents. Under the new ownership the apartments will continue to be 100 percent affordable. CSCDA and RHF partnered with Wells Fargo Bank, Citibank, and Kutak Rock, LLP to provide $45,580,000 in tax-exempt multi-family affordable housing bonds for the project.

The project will undergo an extensive interior and exterior renovation, ensuring that residents have an updated, safe, and affordable community to call home for years to come. The financing of the project will maintain the affordability of units for low-income senior tenants for 55 years.

The League's co-sponsorship of CSCDA continues to be a significant benefit for League members. CSCDA has issued more than $63 billion in tax-exempt bonds for projects that provide a public benefit by creating jobs, affordable housing, healthcare, infrastructure, schools, and other fundamental services.

CSCDA is a joint powers authority created in 1988 and is sponsored by the California State Association of Counties and the League of California Cities. More than 530 cities, counties, and special districts are program participants in CSCDA, which serves as their conduit issuer and provides access to efficiently finance locally-approved projects.

Visit CSCDA's website for additional information on the ways in which CSCDA can help your city.

The Brain Science of Effective Action Planning (even in times of uncertainty!)

Suffering from the problem of having too much time, too much money, and too many staff resources? Didn't think so! Organizations must constantly evaluate how to apply limited resources in the most effective, highest value, and intentionally strategic manner. Too many agencies waste valuable time and resources on low-value activities and unproductive conversations because they lack the knowledge of how to effectively partner and create actionable plans that actually move the organization from ideas to execution, even when times are uncertain. Building off of studies in neuroscience, this presentation solves these problems and focuses on adaptable action plans and methods for staying creative and responsive in the face of change.

Thursday, July 2, 3:15-4:15 p.m.
